

Satellite Radio Companies need to be able to provide instant traffic and weather stations because of the fact that we subscribe to the service and pay a monthly fee for the service. It is not supported by erroneous ads that are wasting time on regular fm and am channels. We want information when we want it and FM and AM radio stations rarely provide stations with this right. Unless, you want to wait for like 45 minutes to hear this on those stations. XM should be allowed to carry these channels and other helpful and subscription based services.
